ANOTHER GRATEFUL FAMILY.

Mr. Miller Considers Paine's Celery Compound a National Blessing.

Paine's celery compound.

Sufferers from debility who find their convalescence too slow, are joyousty surprised by the brisk impetus toward recovery that comes from Paine's celery compound. Its healing, nerve-restoring, blood-making, nourishing powers go so directly to the root of the trouble that the progress toward health and strength is steady and uninterprised.

is steady and uninterrupted.

No relapse come when Paine's celery compound has once fairly begun its healthful action.

Mith a stronger appetite, sounder sleep, and better digestion (results that every one has experienced who has taken Paine's celery compound) the weak and sore kidneys and the tired stomach cease to trouble, and the nerves allow one to work unvexed by day and to sleep by night without disturbance. This is what physicians mean when This is what physicians mean when they say that Paine's celery compound cures nervous diseases permanently.

For disordered liver, and for all blood diseases, physicians use this great for-mula of Prof. Eiward E Pholps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college—Paine's

There is no spring remedy equal to celery compound. It has lifted thou-aine's celery compound.

Sufferers from debility who find their what nothing else ever did for the sleep-

Here is a testimonial from Mr. E. A. Miller, of Columbus, O., accompanying the obotograph of his family.

"For two years past I have been a constant sufferer with severe nervous headaches, of times being compelled to go to bed, when my business necessitated my personal attention. Last week my physician recommended Paine's celery compound. I have taken now four bottles, and have not suffered with headache since. This government, in my mind, should pay the discoverer of Paine's celery compound a sum of money sufficient to keep him and all his relatives in luxury during their natural life."

Mr. Miller is the son of Dr. J. D. Miller. His wife is the granddaughter of the late Governor Lucas, of Ohio. Mr. Miller's praise of Paine's celery compound is equaled by that of thousands of others who owe their health and strength to this greatest of all remedies.

A LITTLE BOY FOR SALE.

A cotaer was busy at work one day,
when her dear little boy, with his toys,
Ran in from his play, as bright as May,
With all of his traps and noise.
"You make such a din," she said to him,
While he work'd with his tools, his joys;
"I'll put you to bed or I'll sell you," she said,
"To the man who buys little boys."
A little hey for sale.

A little boy for sale The price is so low you can buy him, I know. My little boy's for sale; A little boy for sale;
A little boy for sale;
He makes so much noise with his hammer and toys, My little boy for sale.

The dear little boy was quiet one day;

He had laid his toys aside. The mother had ceased her work to pray, "O Lord, with me abide."
As she sits by the bed of her curly head A soft, sweet song she sings, When out of the gloom of that small, quiet

Comes the rustle of angels' wings.

Comes the rustle of angels' wings.
There's no little boy for sale;
There's no little boy for sale;
He was bought by the love of the Father above:
There's no little boy for sale;
There's no little boy for sale;
There's no little boy for sale;
He was bought by the love of the Father above,
There's no little boy for sale.
—Omaha World-Herald.

HOW JESS PROPOSED

I could never quite forgive a certain somebody whom Jess lovingly called Ned for stealing my little Jess' heart, and one day I told her so.

We were sitting together in the hammock that swung gently to and fro be-tween stately elms in the midst of the beautiful flower garden of Jess Sheldon's summer home at Ryo. I had been spending a week with my friend, a whole sweet, delightful week, so like the old college days again—without any Ned to spoil (for me) its happy hours.

It was Saturday afternoon, and Ned was expected up from New York on the 6 o'clock train. I was sorry. Jess was in the seventh heaven of sweet anticipation. the seventh heaven of sweet anticipation.

She was looking her best, which means that she was looking bewitchingly lovely.
There was the lovelight in her eyes, those great, soft, brown eyes, and love's emblem—one deep red rose—in her hand, and as she sat at my side, with her face partly turned from me, I knew that she was thinking of Ned.

My dire threat of being unforciving

My dire threat of being unforgiving seemed to affect her but little, for she laughed merrily at me. Perhaps she knew me too well to believe me, or perhaps she trusted confidently to Nod's irresistible charms and powers to melt my heart.

"At any rate," I added, "you're such a dear little creature, Jess, that if this knight of yours is not all and far more than your love pictures him I don't se how he ever had the assurance to mak love to you. suppose he didn't?" suggested

Jess, turning toward me with a merry twinkle in her eyes.

"Didn't what?" I asked.

"Why, 'make love' to me Suppose I did it—that is, first, you know,' she said, did to this with a blush.

"Jess." I exclaimed, "what do you

She nestled close to me, linked her pretty arm within mine and said: "I'll tell you it happened.

You know that about a year ago I inherited a snug little fortune from my grandfather, and that, besides this, my parents are rich. Not a bad state to be in, you'll allow. Quite enviable, in fact, in, you'll allow. Quite chylable, in lack, and yet I'd scatter my riches to the four winds if I thought that they would ever again come between me and the truest, noblest"— And here I was compelled to curb my curiosity and listen to a spirited eulogy on the virtues of Ned.

"We met last winter at Lakewood, and from the first day that I saw Ned and his companions I felt a peculiar interest in them. Not a matter of 'love at first sight' less, the dyspeptic, and the despondent-is oures them once and for all. Here is a testimonial from Mr. E A at all, but just as I said, 'an interest'- such as one feels in a group one meets in a railroad car or in an afternoon's walk. "There were three of them—two boys, lads of about 12 and 14—the jolliest, heartlest boys I have ever met. Handsome fel-lows, too—perhaps a bit too fair, but with such glorious complexions, and such clear, frank, blue eyes, and forms that were sturdy and strong. There was every in-dication of wealth in their dress. It was of fine material, the latest cut, and with-out stint. They were brothers, I knew at a glance.

"The other one of the group was a young man, their senior by 10 or 12 years. He, too, was handsome, but of quite another type. His hair and eyes were dark and his complexion inclined to be swarthy. He certainly was not brother to the boys. Besides, his clothes told a story very different from theirs. His linen was immaculate, his clothes well pressed, but it was evidently many moons since they had left the hands of the tailor, and hard service had made them too familiar with the severity of the whisk.

"One day I learned that he was tutor to "One day I learned that he was tutor to the boys, and was struggling to pay his way through college, and—well, it was just like me to feel a deeper interest than ever. I wanted to do something for him. imagine that I was romantic enough to fall in love with the poor tutor then and there. Nothing of the sort. We merely exchanged commonplaces when we met, and although once or twice I caught him looking at me across the dinner table looking at me across the dinner table there was nothing in the expression of his grave, dark eyes that caused any unusual flutterings in my heart.

"A decided friendship, however, had sprung up between the younger of the twa boys and me. One day, while we were talking together, our conversation fell boys and me. One day, while we were talking together, our conversation fell upon his studies. He spoke French fluently, and regretfully I confessed that I was not so thorough in it as I should like to be. 'Oh, why don't you come to our ch es? he said. 'I know that Mr. Morris would be pleased to have you.' And I don't know just how it came about, but one morning the boy's tutor invited me to the class in French. I went. I went the class in French. I went. I went again the next morning. I became a regular attendant at French and Latin and literature. I became thoroughly fasci-nated with my studies. I loved to read and All went gloriously for awhile; then sud-denly it became evident to me that something was wrong, something was the mat-ter. I didn't hear half that was said, I blundered in my answers, I felt ill at ease, and the 'Amo, Amas, Amat' seemed to send a great pain through my heart, andwell, I decided to give up the classes. Mr. Morris said that he was sorry, and that was the end of it all."

Jess paused a moment, and I thought that she had finished her story. "But Ned. We were speaking of Ned, you know," I suggested.

Yes," she continued, "I know. I had not forgotten. But up to that time I had never thought of him as Ned. He was only the boys' tutor, who had helped me very much That afternoon papa received a tele gram which made it necessary for him to return to New York within a few hours, and as the time of our intended stay was almost at an end mamma and I decided to ompany him.

'It was just after lunch. Ned and the bys had gone skating and would not return before dark. We left the hotel at 4 o'clock, and so I did not even say goodby to Ned. I expected never to see him again.

"At home I was once more in the midst of the social whirl-life was just as full of but something was different. It was my-self. I had no heart in anything that I did. Alas, I realized it fully now; I had left my heart at Lakewood! I tried to bury my secret and strove to enter into the life that was mine and to be happy in the attentions that had once pleased me.

"I devoted two hours each morning to my studies. Ned had told me that I had literary talent, and that I ought to write, I determined to try. I did try. But, oh, dear me, what a failure I made of it! If I chose a pathetic tale, it set me to creaming, and in my dreams I wandered far from my plot, and my pathos grew in, ipid. I wrote in lighter vein—of knights and ladies, happy in love and beauty, but when my here held his lady's hand and strove to tell her of his passion, though his heart were full to overflowing, all that his lips could utter was 'Amo, Amas, Amat,' and my efforts to aid him were of no avail.

"What soulless, lifeless little stories they were, to be sure. Of course they were returned. I grew heartily sick of seeing long envelopes and of reading stereotyped notices of articles being 'not available.' I knew the little printed slips word for word, and generally consigned them to my wastebasket unread. I could have cried my heart out with disappointment. chose a pathetlo tale, it set me t gream-my wastebasket unread. I could have cried my heart out with disappointment. It was not the remuneration that I cared about, but I was piqued to think that I had failed, failed, failed.

had failed, failed, failed.

"I tried again and again. I wrote of spring—of apple blossoms and daffodils, of swallows and orioles, but my flowers grow stifily, and my swallows were not at all glad that summer was at hand.

"But there came a day when the long envelopes contained something more than my poor little story and the tiresome unavailable notice—it contained a note. It was from an editor in New York, who had was from an editor in New York, who had somehow been the chosen object of my importunity, a kindly man, it seemed, whose sweet patience had stood the test of my endeavors.
"The note ran something like this (I

"The note ran something like this (I wrote under a nom de plume): 'My dear Miss —, I am sorry to return your story. It has many fine points. The plot is excellent, and the language more than commonly good, but it is—if you will allow me to say it—dreadfully stiff and unnatural. Could you not manage to throw a little more heart into your stories? Suppose you take some one character, or incident, or place that interests you personally, and write about it just as though you mean it all.' And the note was signed simply, 'The Editor.' simply, 'The Editor.'
"I sat for some time pondering over the note. A great struggle was taking place within me. Should I do it? Could I endure to see in cold black and white this sweet, painful secret that was at once my delight and my terture? At last I resolved I would throw more heart—my whole heart—into my struck. I would throw more heart-my whole heart-into my story. I would feel and mean it all.

I conceived a briffiant idea. I would just run down to Aunt Harriet's for a couple of weeks, where I should be away from social temptations, and where in perfect quiet my story might grow.

"Oh, those precious weeks—so full of pain and pleasure, of happy memories, of sighs and moods, of life and love! My story grew—nay, it ceased to be 'a story' at all. I was not writing. I was thinking, living, loving, far away in an ideal world where I was happy, oh, so happy, and I merely jotted it down, just for sweet memory's sake.

And when I had finished my tale, how real it seemed! So real, in fact, that I wondered whether a stranger's eye might not even read between its lines and guess my secret.

"Should I send it? Yes, what matter! "Should I send it? Yes, what matter! The world would never know. There was only my nom de plume. My hero was not Ned, nor my heroine Jess. Latin and French were disguised in music, and Lakewood would never recognize itself among the snowlad hills of New England. So I sent my story. Where do you suppose? I sent my story. Where do you suppose? To Ned. Right plump into the hands of

"Jess!" I exclaimed. She was laughing, and for the life of me I could not tell whether to believe her or to give her a sound shaking for screwing my curiosity to its utmost limits only to make fun of

"Yes, to Ned," Jess continued, "though, of course, I did not mean it so. dressed my manuscript, as usual, to but what a little world this is,

Editor, but what a little world this is, after all! The editor and Ned were one.

"My story was 'accepted,' and it brought a great price—it brought me Ned's heart. Love, that had peeped over my shoulder and guided my pen as I wrote, now peeped over Ned's shoulder and whispered in his ear, in his heart, in his soul, and he has told me many times how that soft whisper seemed to flood all his lonely life with sunshine and to fill all the air about him. sunshine and to fill all the air about him with the song of birds. Through every disguise he had known me. Dear Ned, he had loved me from the first, and I had nev-er guessed it. I was rich, and he was poor, with perhaps years of struggling before him, and he was too noble to speak. But a happy turn in his life's fortune brought a happy turn in his life's fortune brought this editorial position within his grasp. From that time he felt that perhaps some day he would meet me again, and per-haps.— But there, what's the use of 'per-hapsing' For all I know, we might have been waiting and longing and sighing yet if I hadn't 'made love' first—which of course you'll allow that I did "

I was about to reply when Jess sprang up from the hammock, with a cry of, "There's Ned!" She forgot all about me and ran to meet him, and I-well, what would you have done under the circum stances?-Grace S. Brown in Monthly 11

A Cooking Hint.

A Birmingham (Ala.) woman manages A Birmingnam (Am.) woman manages a restaurant, and has a specialty which she conspicuously advertises in the Birming-ham papers. It is "Thermometrical Oys-ter Frying," which she thus forcibly explains: "Melted fat is a placid looking af-fair. Looks about the same when it is piping hot as when it is only 'sorter hot." piping not as when to is only sorter now, and the oyster cook never knows for sure whether or not the grease is hot enough until the oysters have been put in. Now, by guess and by gosh, but I have a the mometer and require the fat to be heated to a certain temperature."

In all of which, bereft of its superlatives, there is a good grain of wisdom for other ovster cooks.—New York Times

A Horse Breaking Machine.

Many years ago a machine was devised but did not meet with an overwhelming success. This has lately been improved upon and an ingenious system for train-ling horses has now come into use.

In the center of a large round building a horizontal wheel is set up. Long shafts are attached, and the horses are harnessed to them after the process are to them after the manner of a merry go round. The trainer sits in the middle and found. The trainer sits in the madie and drives his circular team, one of which is always a thoroughly broken horse, which sets the pace and keeps the others in check. When harnessed to this apparatus, the young horse has little chance of playing any tricks, and being of an imitative disposition he foon learns his lesson. He can do nothing but move quietly round and round the ring. He can neither back nor bolt, for the force of the majority is against him.—Pearson's Weekly.

The largest known species of spider is the gigantic mygale of Central America, which has a leg spread of from 13 to 16

STEVENSON'S MODESTY.

The Novelist's Opinion o. Himself as Expressed In His Latters.

There is one passage in Louis Stevenson's correspondence which it would have been a thousand pities to miss. So much nonsense has been written about Stevenson's work, he was made the vic-tim while he lived of such an extravagant system of puffing, that those who did not know him were almost inevitably forced to associate him with his flatterers and to believe that he must see himself with their eyes. It is clear that he did not. His most exacting critic can hardly have judged him more sternly than he judged brimself.

"For the nonce my skill deserts me, such as it is, or was. It was a very tle dose of inspiration, and a pretty little trick of style, long lost, improved by the most heroic industry. So far I have managed to please the journalists. But I am a fictitious article, and have long known it. I am read by journalists, by my fellow novelists, and by boys. With these, incipit et explicit my vogue. Good thing anyway, for it seems to have sold the edition. * * * I do not think it is possible to have fewer illusions than I. I sometimes wish I had more. They are amusing. But I cannot take myself seriously as an artist. The limitations are so obvious."

It is not often one finds a popular author writing in such a strain—an author, too, whom there seemed a general conspiracy among the reviewers to spoil. What a contrast it is to the following extract from the touching epilogue added to these letters by his editor and

"The fragment on which he wrought during the last month of his life gives to my mind, as it did to his own, for the first time the full measure of his powers, and if in the literature of romance there is to be found work more masterly, of more piercing human insight or more concentrated imaginative vision and beauty, I do not know it."

—Macmillan's Magazine.

An Apology.

It was customary in Baron Graham's day to suspend judgment in criminal cases till the close of the assizes, and then deliver the sentences all in a lump. had been accidentally omitted in the list of capital punishments, of which he was reminded on coming to the end. "Oh, yes, I see, John Thompson! John Thompson, I beg your pardon! You are also to be hanged by the neck until you are dead, and may the Almighty have mercy of your miserable soul also!"—Temple Bar.

How Shall We Amuse Ourselves?

There should be public instruction in this country in the art of amusing one's self. There is no more painful sight of wasted labor than an American holiday.—
Boston Journal.

St. Louis annually makes up and sells $225,000,000 worth of goods.

Heart Disease?

Quick pulse, palpitation of the heart, short breath, swimming head - terribly frightened? No danger - simply symptoms of Dyspepsia. Not one person in five thousand has real heart disease.

Try Dr. Desne's Dyspepsia Pills and see how mickly this kind of heart disease disappears. White DR. J. A. DEANE CO., Kingston, N. Y.

RAMONS Nerve and Bone Oil Cures Rheumatism, Cuts, Sores, Burns and Bruises Large bottle 25 cents.

LEGAL NOTICES.

IN THE CLERK'S OFFICE OF THE HUST days Court for the city of Rosnoke, on the Sth day of March, 1896, McDowell & Co., plaintiffs, against W. F. Baker and als., defendants, charcery.

The object of this suit is to enforce the lieu of But taght cary.

The object of this suit is to enforce the lieu of a judgment in favor of the plaintiff against W. F. Baker, and to subject the real estate of said Baker in the city of Roanoke to the payment of said Judgment, with Interest and cost, and an affidarit having been made and filed that the defendants, Thos. R. Campbell and J. C. McNaughton, L. A. Connell and Jos. Johnson are not residents of the State of Virginia, it is ordered that they do appear here, within fifteen days after due publication hereof, and do what may be necessary to protect their interest in this suit. And it is further ordered that a copy hereof be published once a week for four weeks in The ROANOKE of the city on the what return.

A copy—Test:

S. BROOKE, Cierk.

LUNSFORD & ANTRIM, P. Q. SEVERAL, OF

COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF SEVERAL OF the most valuable properties in Roanoke. Fine residences and business lots on Campbell avenue between Ponco de Leon Hôtel and Henry street.

By virtue of a certain decree entered by the hustings court for the city of Roanoke, at its January term, 1896, in the chancery cause of T. B. Hobart vs. W. M. Yager et als., the undersigned as commissioner appointed in said cause, will offer for sale at public auction in front the court house of the city of Roanoke, at 190 CL OK NOON, ON THE ISTH DAY OF APRIL, 1896, the tollowing described parcels of land situated in the said city of Roanoke.

First parcel.—(A) Meginning at a point on the southwest corner of Gilmer and Holliday streets, there with Holliday street south 50 feet to a point; thence in an easterly direction 56 feet to a point; thence in an ortherly direction 5 feet to a point; thence in a northerly direction 5 feet to a point; on Gilmer street; thence with Gilmer street in a westerly direction 55 feet to a point on the place of beginning.

An undvided one-half interest in the following nning.

street in a westerly direction 78 feet to the place of beginning.

An undivided one-half interest in the following property: (B) Beginning at a point on the east side of Henry street 243.7 feet south of Spruce street; thence south 83 degrees cast 30 feet to a point; thence south 75 degrees west 85 feet more or less, to Henry street; thence north 7 degrees east 85 feet with Henry street to the beginning.

Second parcel.—Beginning at a point on the north-side of Campbell street 25.4 feet east of the north-side of Campbell street 25.4 feet east of the north-side of Campbell street 25.4 feet east of the north-side of Campbell street 25.4 feet east of the north-side street of the said dower land north 2 degrees east 75 feet to a point; thence south 24 degrees east 75 feet to a point; thence south 24 degrees east 75 feet to a point; thence with said street south 31 degrees 13 minutes west 25 feet to a point street; thence with said street south 31 degrees 13 minutes west 25 feet to a point; thence south 25 degrees east 35 feet west of Henry street; thence with said line of said dower land north 2 degrees east 35 feet to a point; thence south 2 degrees east 35 feet to a point; thence south 2 degrees east 35 feet to a point; thence south 2 degrees east 35 feet to a point; thence south 2 degrees west 35 feet to a point; thence south 37 degrees west 35 feet to a point; thence south 37 degrees west 35 feet to a point; thence south 37 degrees west 35 feet to a point; thence south 37 degrees west 36 feet to a point; thence south 37 degrees west 36 feet to a point; thence south 37 degrees west 36 feet to a point; thence south 37 degrees west 36 feet to a point; thence south 37 degrees west 36 feet to a point; thence south 37 degrees west 40 feet to a point; thence south 37 degrees west 57 feet to a point; thence south 37 degrees west 58 feet to a point; thence south 37 degrees west 50 feet to a point; thence south 37 degrees west 50 feet to a point; thence south 37 degrees west 50 feet to a point; thence south 37 degrees wes

LEGAL NOTICES.

Jefferson street; thence with Jefferson treet south 2 degrees west 75 feet to the place of be, in ning, telng lots 187, 185 and 189, ward—, of Re a noke Land and improvement Company's map. This parcel of land will be gold in the following divisions:

This parcel of land will be sold in the following divisions:

(A) B ginn'ng at a point on the northwest corner of deflerson and Robertson streets, thence with Robertson street north 88 degrees west 100 feet to a point, thence north 2 degrees east 50 feet to a point, thence south 88 degrees east 50 feet to a point, thence south 80 degrees east 50 feet to Jefferson street, thence with same south 2 degrees west 50 feet to the place of beginning.

(B) Beginning at a point on the west side of Jefferson street 50 feet north of Robertson street, thence north 87 degrees 55 minutes east 100 feet, thence south 87 degrees 55 minutes east 100 feet to Jefferson street, thence south 87 degrees 55 minutes east 100 feet to Jefferson street, thence south 87 degrees 55 minutes east 100 feet to Jefferson street, thence south 2 degrees 15 minutes east 100 feet to Jefferson street, thence south 2 degrees 15 minutes east 100 feet to Jefferson street, thence south 2 degrees 15 minutes east 100 feet to Jefferson street, thence south 2 degrees 15 minutes east 100 feet to Jefferson street, thence south 2 degrees 15 minutes east 100 feet to Jefferson street, thence south 2 degrees 15 minutes east 100 feet to Jefferson street, thence south 2 degrees 15 minutes east 100 feet to Jefferson street, thence south 2 degrees 15 minutes east 100 feet to Jefferson street, thence south 2 degrees 15 minutes east 100 feet to Jefferson street, thence south 2 degrees 15 minutes east 100 feet to Jefferson street, thence south 2 degrees 15 minutes east 100 feet to 100 feet 100 f

Sixth parcel—Lots 5 and 6, section "D," of the Rogers, Fairlar & Houston accidition to the city of Roanoke.

Seventh parcel—(A) Beginning at a point on the south side of Washington street 150 feet cast of Lewis street 8 w., thence in a southerly direction 130 feet to a manual result of the street 150 feet to washington street in a northerly direction 130 feet to a point, thence in a northerly direction 130 feet to a point, thence in a northerly direction 130 feet to washington street 185 feet east of Lewis street, thence in a southerly direction 130 feet to an addition of the place of beginning.

(B) Beginning at a point on the south side of Washington street 185 feet east of Lewis street, thence with a sid alley in an easterly direction 33 feet to a point, thence in a northerly direction 35 feet to washington street in a northerly direction 35 feet to the place of beginning.

(c) Beginning at a point on the south side of Washington street 166 feet east of Lewis street, thence with a southerly direction 130 feet to a point, thence in a northerly direction 35 feet to washington street; an exception of the south side of Washington street; and alley in an easterly direction 35 feet to a point, thence in a northerly direction 35 feet to washington street; and alley in an easterly direction the place of beginning.

Eighth parcel—Beginning at a point on the south side of Day street 160 feet east of Henry street, thence In a southerly direction parallel with Henry street 150 feet to middle of a 12 foot alley, thence with heavy street 160 feet case of Henry street, thence with pay street in a northerly direction for feet to the place of beginning.

Ninth parcel.—An undivided one-half it terest in the fellowing described property: Beginning at a point on the west-street of feet, thence south 2 degrees 15 minutes west 170 feet, thence north 2 degrees 15 minutes west 170 feet, thence north 2 degrees 15 minutes east 170 feet, thence on the degree of beginning.

Tenth parcel—The parcel of land hereinafter described will the degrees 45 minutes cast 25 feet, thence south 87 degrees 45 minutes cast 25 feet, thence south 87 degrees 45 minutes cast 27 feet to the place of beginning.

Tenth parcel—The parcel of land hereinafter described will then be offered for sale in the event that it shall be necessary for the same to be sold in order to carry out the terms of the decree above mentioned:

Beginning at a point on the Southeastern side of Jeffereon street 600 feet southwest of Rice street and running thence south 41 degrees cast 150 feet to sa alleys, thence with said alley south 40 degrees west 200 feet to a point, thence north 41 degrees west 200 feet to a point, thence north 41 degrees west 200 feet to point, thence north 41 degrees west 200 feet to point, thence north 41 degrees west 200 feet to 400 feet on the place of beginning.

TERMS OF SALE—One third for cash and the remainder upon a credit of one and two years from the day of sale, said deferred payments to be evidenced by the negotiable notes of the purchaser, bearing interest from day of sale and to be secured by retention of title of the property purchased until the entire purchase money shall have been paid.

Wh. LUNSFORD

Special Commisseoner.

I, S. S. Brooke, clerk of the hestings court feet.

have been paid.

NWM. LUNSFORD,
Special Commissesoner.

I. S. S. Brooke, clerk of the heatings court for the city of Roanoke do certify that William Lunsford, commissioner in the above-named cause, has given bond in the penalty of $10,000 as required by, the decree for sale in said cance.

314 tds

S. S. BROOKE, Clerk.

required by, the decree for sale in said cause.

S 14 tds

S. S. BROOKE, Clerk.

TRUSTEE'S SALE—WHEREAS A CERTAIN deed of trust was executed by William S. Gregory and Mary B. Gregory his wife, to George J. Peet, trustee, bearing date the 13th day of January, 1892, and recorded in the clerk's office of the hustings court for the city of koanoke, Va., in deed book 72, page 215, to secure the performance of certain conditions and payments specified in a certain bond executed by the said deed of trust, for the payment of three thousand (SLOU.O) dollars to the National Mutual Building and Loan Association, of New York, in accordance with their articles of association; and whereas, the said George J. Freet has resigned the said trust, and the judge of the hustings court at the March term did appoint Junius McGehee as trustee in place and stead of George J. Peet, trustee, after legal notice, as provided by statute, to all parties in interest; and whereas default has been made in the payments and whereas default has been made in the payments and whittons mentioned in said bond and deed of trust for more than three months, and after having been requested so to do by the beneficiary, the National Mutual Building and Loan Association, of New York, I shall, by virtue of said deed and pursuant to the terms thereof, proceed to said at public ancient, to the highest bidder, MONDAY, APRIL 6, 1886, AT 3 O'CLOUK P. M., On the premises, all the property conved in said deed, with the improvements thereon, bounded and described as follows, to-wil:

Beginning at a point two hundred and fitty and five hundredth (25,05) feet north of the north-east corner of Marion and Jefferson street formerly (Mande street north 6 degrees 8 minutes east to hundred and forty-six (146) feet to a point on same, thence north 89 degrees 30 minutes west one hundred and forty-six (146) feet to the place of beginning, being lot ten (10) of the plat of Jefferson street property; (146) feet to the place of beginning, being lot ten (10) of the plat of Jefferso being lot ten (10) of the plat of senergon server property.

TERMS—Cash sufficient to pay all costs of executing this trust, including a commission to the trustee and to pay off said arrearages due thereon, amounting in the aggregate to twenty five hundred and sixty-flwe dollars and forty-flwe cents ($2.565 dS), as of April the sixth, 1896, and the balance, if any, in twelve and twenty four months with interest thereon from date, the purchaser executing negotiable notes for deferred payments and secured by a deed of trust on the property sold.

JUNIUS McGBHER,

26 tds

Substituted Trustee.

TRUSTEE'S SALE.—WHERBAS, A CER-tain deed of trust was executed by Mary C. London and L. P. London her husband, to George tain deed of trust was executed by Mary C. London and L. P. London her husband, to George J. Peet, trustee, bearing date the 27th day of September, 1880, and recorded in the clerk's office of the hustings court for the city of Roanoke, Va., in deed book 47, page 197, to secure the performance of certain conditions and payments specified in a certain bond executed by the said Mary C. London of even date with the said deed for the payment of six hundred dollars ($500) to the National Mutual Building and Loan Association, of New York, in accordance with their articles of association; and whereas, the said George J. Peet has reeligned the said trust and the judge of the hustings court at the February term did appoint Junius McGehee as trustee in piece and stead of George J. Peet trustee, after legal natices approvided by statute to all the parties in interest; and whereas, default has been made in the payments and conditions mentioned in said bond and deed of trust for more than three months, and after having been requested so to do by the beneficiary, the National Mutual Building and Loan Association, of New York, I shall by virtue of said deed and persuant to the terms thereof, proceed to sell at public auction to the highest bidder ON SAT-URDAY, APRIL 4, 1856, AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M., on the premises all the property conveyed in said deed, with the improvements thereon, bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a point on the north side Watts street (or Ninth avenue) and running back of that uniform width between parallel lines northerly one hundred and thirty (130) feet to an alley, and known as lot 20, section 13, as shown on the map of the Lewis street, fronting fifty (50) feet on Watts street (or Ninth avenue) and running back of that uniform width between parallel lines northerly one hundred and thirty (130) feet to an alley, and known as lot 20, section 13, as shown on the map of the Lewis attents of the certing this true.

Va.

TERMS—Cash sufficient to pay all costs of ex TERMS—Cash sufficient to pay all costs of executing this trust, including a commission to the trustee and to pay off said arrearages/due thereon, amounting in the aggregate to five hundred and eighty-six dollars and fifty-eight cents ($556.53) as of March 4th, 1896, and the balance, if any, in one and two equal annual instalments, due in twelve and twenty-four months, with interest thereon from date, the purchaser executing negotiable notes for deterred payments and secured by a deed of trust on the property sold.

JUNIUS McGBHEE.

33 tds

Substituted Trustee.

IN CIRCUIT COURT FOR ROANOKE CITY.

Big Stony Railway Co., complainants, vs.
Frank Woodman and als., in chancery, to Frank Woodman and Robt, Ballard: Take notice, that ON THE MTH DAY OF MARCH, 1888, at the office of Vines & Williams, Terry building, in the city of Roanoke, Virginia, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 6 p. m. of that day, we shall proceed to take the depositions of John Sweet and others, to be read as evidence in our behalf in a certain suit in equity depending in the circuit court for the city of Roanoke, wherein we are plaintif and you are defendent; and if from any plaintiff and you are defendent; and if from any cause the taking of the said depositions be not commenced, or if commenced, be not concluded on that day, the taking thereof will be adjourned from time to time at the same place and between the same hours, until the same shall be completed.

THE BIG STONY RAILWAY COMPANY.

VINES & WILLIAMS.

2 23 str 4 wha

LEGAL NOTICES.

LEGAL NOTICES.

DY VIRTUE OF A CERTAIN DEED OF trust, dated the 29th day of January, 1895, and recorded in the clerk's office of the hustings court for the city of Romoke in deed book 96, page 144, executed by the Tradery Investment Company to the undersigned treatee, for the purper of the season of one thousand dollars (31,002.60), payable one year from the date of said deed; default along been made in the payment of the season of one thousand dollars (31,002.60), payable one year from the date of said deed; default herein secured, and having been requested so to do by the beneficiary, I will offer for sale, ore the premises, AT 11 A. M., ON THE 47H DAY 9F AFRIL, 1396, the following described land:

Beginning at a point on the east side of Jefferson street 105 feet sorth of Hobertson street, thence north 3 degrees west 35 feet to a point, thence south 2 degrees west 100 feet to Jefferson street, the place of beginning.

TENMS OF SALE:—Usek as to the costs of sale, as well as the rum of one thousand dollars $1,000.00, with interest thereon frees the 25th day of January, 1896, and as to the residue, spot a credit to become due in six and twere months from the day of sale, with interest from that date, which said deferred rayments to be evidenced by the notes of the purchaser and to be secured by a deed of trust upon the premises.

TRUSTER'S SALE.—ON THE 10TH DAY OP APRIL 1896, st 10:05 o'clock a. m., I will offer for asle at public auction on the premiese, the following described parcel of land with the improvements situated in the city of Roanoke:

Beg inning at a point 50 feet from the northwest corner of London avenue and Seventeenth street, thence west with 1 oudoun avenue 56 feet to a point, thence north 130 feet to a point on an allegation of the city of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point, thence north 130 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point of the list and alley east 35 feet to a point and THUSTEE'S SALE.—ON THE 10TH DAY OF APMIL, 1896, at 10 o'clock a. m., I will offer for raic at public auction, on the premises, the following described parcel of land with its improvements, situated in the city of Roanoke.

Beginning 59 feet from the northwest corner of Loudoun avenue and Seventeeth street, thence west with said Loudoun avenue 50 feet to a point, thence with said Loudoun avenue 50 feet to a point, thence with said Loudoun avenue 50 feet to a point to feet distant from Seventeen hatreet, thence south 130 feet to Loudoun avenue, the place of beginning, being the castern half of lot 7, section 20, of the Hyde Fark Land Company.

The above sale is made by authority contained in a deed of frust from W. L. Moore and Ruth A. Moore, dated the 11th day of January, 1898, and recorded in the clerk's office of the hustings court for the city of Roanoke, in deed book 85, paye 22, default having been made in the payment under the bond therein secured for more than three menths.

The above sale will be made by the undersigned, who was substituted as trust-e in the above mentioned deed of trust in the place of Galen H. Coon by an order of the hustings court for the city of Roanoke entered at the February term, 1886.

TERMS OF SALE—Cash. The amount decunder the above mentioned deed of trust in $1,133.80, as of march lst, 1896.

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF HOUSE AND LOT.—

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF HOUSE AND LOT.—
By virtue of a deed of trust from C. L. C. Minor to the undersigned, dated February 3, 1892, and recorded in the clerk's office of the hustings court of the city of Roanoke, Virginia, in deea book No. 72, page 447, I will offer at public saic in front of the courtnose in said city of Hoanoke ON FRIDAY, APRIL 107H, 1896. AT 11 O'CLOCK A. M., the following described land sliuated in said city, viz:

Beginning at a point on the north side of Robertson street 305 feet west of Jefferson, thence with Robertson street north 88 decrees 15 minutes west 30 feet to a point, thence north 1 degree 45 minutes west 30 feet to a point, thence north 1 designed 45 minutes cast 30 feet to a point, thence sonth 1 degree 5 minutes west 100 feet to the beginning.

There is a frame house on the lot.

thence south I degree 45 minutes were thence south I degree 45 minutes were the beginning.

There is a frame house on the lot.

TERMS:—Cash enough to pay all costs attending the execution of this trust and $103.82 back taxes (which sum includes all unpaid taxes prior to 1890) and the debt of $2,500, with interest from February 3, 1896; the residue of the purchase money in two equal annual payments from day of sale, with interest from day of sale payable of annually, the deferred payments to be evidenced by the bonds of the purchaser and secured by a deed of trust on the property.

E. HOLMES BOYD,

Trustee.

Trustee.

TRUSTEE'S SALE—HAVING BEEN SUBstituted as trustee in the place of Walter H.
Saunders in a certain deed of trust, dated 13th day of June, 1894, executed by Mrs. I. B. Boone, nartners as Boone Bros., and recorded in deed book 93, page 106, of the clerk's office of the hustings court for Roanoke city, Va., to secure B. P. Huff, J. B. Andrews, F. B. and W. H. Thomas, partners as Huff, Andrews & Thomse, the sum of $5,826.38, evidenced by three bonds for $1,924.12 each, dated 13th day of June, 1894, payable one, two and three years, respectively, after date, and default having been made in the payment of first bond and twelve interest coupons each for $9.71, attached to said hond, and eighteen interest coupons for $9.71 each attached to second bond and like number and for like amount attached to third bond, and thereby the whole amount became due and payable, and having been required by the beneficiaries in said deed of trust so to do!
i will on THURSDAY, APRIL 2ND, 1896, at 12 o'clock a. m. sell at anction to the highest bidder in front of the Courthouse in Roanoke, Va., the following lots or parcels of land, situated and being in the city of Roanoke:

1st. Beginning at a point on the south side of in front of the Courthouse in Roamoke, Va., the following lots or parcels of land, situated and being in the city of Roamoke.

1st. Reginning at a point on the south side of Tazewell street 188 feet aast of Commerce street, thence with Tazewell street least 36 feet 3 inches to J. H. Wertz's lot, thence with said lot southwardly 180 feet and 6 inches to a point, thence south 86 degrees 30 minutes weet 34 feet 100 a point, thence northwardly 180 feet 6 inches to beginning.

2d. Heginning at a point on the north side of John Street (or Sixth avenue s. w.) 200 feet west of Park street, thence in a westerly direction with John Street 50 feet to a point, there in anortherly direction 29 feet to an alley; thence with said alley in an easterly direction 50 feet to a point on the same, thence in a southerly direction 12 feet to the beginning, being lot 20, section 10 feet to the beginning, being lot 20, section 10 feet to a point, thence sorth 22 feet to the beginning, being lot 11, rection 10 feet to the beginning, being lot 21, rection 10 feet to the beginning, being lot 21, rection 10 feet to the beginning, being lot 21, rection 10 feet to the beginning at the account 25 feet to the beginning at 10 and 11 feet to the beginning on the cast side of Henry street 200 feet south of Pine, thence with Henry street 200 feet south of Pine, thence with Henry street 200 feet south of Pine, thence with Henry street 200 feet to a point, thence cast and parallel with Pine 132% feet to an alley, thence with said alley north 50 feet to a point, thence on the 25 feet to a point, thence on the 25 feet to a point, thence on the 25 feet to a point, thence on the parallel with Battert and Chapman avenue, thence in a westerly direction parallel with Chapman avenue 50 feet to a point, thence south parallel with Battert and Chapman avenue, thence in a westerly direction parallel with Chapman avenue 50 feet to a point, thence south parallel with Battert and Chapman avenue, thence in a westerly direction parallel with Chapman avenue 50 feet t above deed.

TERMS OF SALE: Cash sufficient to pay expenses of executing this trust, including trustee's commission of 5 per cent., unpaid taxes and insurance, and to discharge the principal of $5,836 33 with legal interest from June 13, 1854.

JAS. D. JOHNSTON, JR,

31 td 1 a w 4w

Substituted Trustee.

TRUSTER'S SALE,—BY VIRTUE OF A deed for trust executed September 23, 1892, by D. C. Gailagher and others, and recorded in deed book St, page 347, of the Roanoke corporation court clerk's office, I, as substituted trustee in the place of the trustee named in the said deed, (default having been made in the payment of the note secured thereunder, and being required so to do by the beneficiary) will, ON THE 30TH DAY OF MARCH, 1883, at 12 o'clock m, in front of the courthouse in Roanoke city, sell by public auction, to the bighest bidder, the property conveyed in the said deed described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the northwest corner of Commerce and Jefferson streets, fronting 5866 feet on latter 422.8 feet to Birch street, thence with latter 321.5 feet to Commerce street, thence with latter 31.5 feet to the beginning.

TERMS—Cash sufficient to pay the costs of executing this trust and to pay a note of $2,800 with interest from September 33, 1893, and the residue, if any, payable one year from the day of sale.

A. E. KING,